A Centry of Leadership and Innovation

WHAT IS CSBS?

The Conference of State Bank Supervisors stands firm in its commitment to advancing professionalism in all state banking departments. We are not the average Washington association... we are an extension of your primary regulator. Our strength lies in bringing all state banking departments together with bankers like you to present a unified voice in Washington.

Founded in 1902 as a clearinghouse for ideas to solve common problems of state bank regulators, the Conference of State Bank Supervisors (CSBS) has evolved into a vital force that strengthens state banking departments. For one hundred years, CSBS has been uniquely positioned as the only national organization dedicated to protecting and advancing our nation's dual banking system. Through CSBS, state bank regulatory agencies and state-chartered banks continue to champion a system that offers competitive chartering options, efficient and effective supervision, and a lower cost of regulation for all banks.

CSBS WORK TO:

- ◆Optimize the authority of individual states to determine the activities of their financial institutions.
- ◆Enhance the professionalism of state banking departments and their personnel.
- ◆Represent the interests of the state banking system to federal and state legislative and regulatory agencies.
- ◆Ensure that all banks continue to have the choice and flexibility of the state charter in the new era of financial modernization.

WHY JOIN?

CSBS is a member-driven organization that brings regulators and bankers together for a common purpose. Your bank's support helps us deliver on our core strategic functions: to educate, coordinate, advocate and communicate for the advancement of the state banking system.

UNIQUE BENEFITS

Your bank will directly benefit from its membership in CSBS. As a member, you will have the opportunity to network with regulators and bankers from around the country. You will also receive weekly publications, as well as discounted prices on research publications, technical education programs and management seminars.

◆How well do you know your regulators? The CSBS Annual Meeting & Conference provides an exclusive opportunity to meet with state and federal regulators, bankers and industry leaders in a collegial environment to discuss common challenges.

◆Do you know what's happening in the state banking systems? CSBS publishes The Examiner, a weekly newsletter that provides news, analysis and commentary on the important events affecting the state banking system. With a lively style and original reporting, The Examiner gives you timely information that you will not find in other banking publications.

◆Do you know what is happening in Congress or the Federal Regulatory Agencies that directly impacts how you do business? You will with CSBS's Legislative and Regulatory Update. Delivered electronically, this concise weekly report keeps you informed of Washington developments that matter to state banks and state bank regulators.

◆Can you find the information you need to make business decisions? CSBS's annual Directory of State Bank Supervisors and biennial Profile of State-Chartered Banking have proved invaluable resources to industry decision makers.

◆Do you always understand the way your regulators think? CSBS technical training programs and management seminars provide you and your staff the same educational opportunities as your regulators, giving you a perspective on issues you cannot get anywhere else.

The Conference of State Bank Supervisors (CSBS) is the professional association of state officials responsible for chartering, regulating and supervising the nation's state-chartered banks and state-licensed branches and agencies of foreign banks. Since 1902, CSBS has been the primary advocate for the state banking system nationwide, fulfilling this mission by representing the state banking system on Capitol Hill, among federal regulatory agencies and the courts. CSBS is a leading provider of education and training for state bank examiners, and serves as the central clearinghouse for information on the state banking system.
